Poetry.

Work—Duty—Beauty.

How to be beautiful when old?
I can tell you maiden fair—
Not by lotions, dies and pignets,
Not by washes for your hair.
While you're young be pure and gentle,
Keep your passions well controlled:
Walk, work and do your duty—
You'll be handsome when you're old.

Snow-white locks are fair as golden,
Gray as lovely as the brown,
And the smile of age more pleasant
Than a youthful beauty's frown.
'Tis the soul that shapes the features,
Fires the eye, attunes the voice;
Sweet sixteen, be these your maxims,
When you're sixty you'll rejoice.

Selected Story.

Milly's Romance.

BY BURR THORNBURY.

"I do wish something would happen," soliloquised pretty Milly Ashmore, as she finished reading a charming little romance. "Nothing ever does happen here; it's as dull as November all the year round. I believe, though, that nothing like what I read of happens anywhere—the story writers are all humbugs. I never knew anything yet to come out just as it does in tales and sketches—it's all brain-fixing. Would it not be nice for—Milly Ashemore—to—to—"

Milly paused; she hardly knew what to picture for herself in the way of romantic experience.

"I don't want to quarrel with Guy Brown," she continued, reflectively, "and have him go off, in heart-broken fashion, to some far country, and come back, after many years, rich and penitent, to find me waiting for him—an old maid, with spitcurls and a spiteful temper. No; I'd rather make sure of Guy, without any such fuss as that, even if romance does end with marriage.!"

"Milly—Milly Ashmore! come here this minute! You're always idling in some shady corner or other! It's time to build a fire for supper—seven great hungry harvesters here, and you leaving me to attend to everything. Bring in the kindling instanter!"

The voice that fell upon the girl's ears was not a pleasant one. The harsh impatient, imperative tones almost made her tremble.

"Oh, dear?" she sighed, "it's nothing but drudge—drudge; churn and wash; wash and churn; set the table, and clear it again. I wish it was the custom to throw dirty dishes away, instead of washing them. I'm coming, mo—"

She tried to say "mother," but she choked at the word. Somehow she could never call the coarse, unlovely woman, who called her daughter, by that dear and tender name.

Milly tripped across the highway that ran in front of the farm house, and very close to it. She had been at the shaded spring on the opposite side, and was just in the act of opening the little whitewashed gate that gave entrance to the dooryard, when the rapid roll of wheels some distance down the road arrested her attention.

She glanced in the direction from which the sound came, and saw to her alarm, that a horse was flying at a furious rate of speed along the highway, with a light carrage at his heels, whose revolving whels flushed in the sunlight like silver fire.

The animal was evidently a runaway. As the distance between him and herself lessened, Milly saw that the carriage contained a single occupant—a gentleman—who was vainly trying to check the frightened steed.

Milly, breathlessly with sympathetic terror, could only stand in a sort of painful stupor, and witness the exciting scene.

On came the flying beast, every moment adding to his frantic fright.

A hitching-post stood by the roadside, just in front of the farm-house. Shying at an object on the other side, the horse sprang toward the post, and one of the wheels of the vehicle struck it with terrific force.

The gentleman was thrown bleeding to the ground. A cry of horror broke the silence of Milly's lips, and an exclamation followed from Mrs. Ashmore, who rushed out to see what the excitement meant.

The runaway horse, now disengaged from the vehicle, sped on down the hill, at the foot of which he fell from sheer exhaustion.

Some harvesters saw the animal, hastened to it, and thence to the assistance of the injured gentleman.

The stranger—for he was a stranger, was carried into the farm-house, where for days he lay a helpless sufferer. But the gentlest of nurses Milly Ashmore proved to him—waiting upon him with a patient assiduity that quite won his admiration and gratitude.

He was a middle-aged man, of striking personal appearance, with a gentle melancholy of manner, very interesting to his fair attendant

And she was interesting to him. He questioned her freely in regard to her life, and wondered if one so innately refined as she could be content with her coarse surroundings; but Milly grew to be very shy, and would not commit herself. He guessed, however, that she wasn't wholly happy in her condition, though her bright spirit made the best of many distasteful things, even if she did at times give way to expressions of disgust.

At last the gentleman had convalesced sufficiently to think about continuing his journey.

"What shall I give you for a parting present, Milly ?" he asked. "You have been so very kind to me that, apart from the payment of expenses entailed upon your parents, I feel quite like giving you an extra testimonial of my gratitude What shall it be ?"

"Oh nothing, sir!" returned she, trembling at the idea of being called upon to name a reward, when she expected nothing.

"But I am determined that you shall have something—something entirely acceptable— and so I ask you what it shall be? Have you any jewelry, Milly?

"Only this, sir !" she said, producing a small Maltese cross, which she wore suspended from her neck, but concealed in her bosom. "She doesn,t believe in ornaments, and wouldn't let me keep this, only—"

"Only what, Milly ?" demanded the gentleman, excitedly.

His eye had fallen upon the cross, and the sudden eagerness of his manner, as he surveyed it, almost startled her.

"Where did you get this ?" he asked again, before she could reply to his question of interruption.

"I've always had it," she said. "It belonged to my mother."

"To your mother? To Mrs. Ashmore?"

"No!" faltered the girl: "she is not my real mother."

"Oh, heaven suppoct me !" exclaimed the gentleman, excited, "i have seen that cross before, Milly—it was lost with my infant daughter years ago. What if you should prove to be her ?"

A cry of infinite surprise escaped from Milly's lips.

"Call Mrs. Ashmore, Milly!" cried the gentleman. "She must know the meaning of this mystery. You are not her child you say? The cross! the cross! and that peculiar mark! Oh, God, save me from disappointment now!"

The young girl had flown to summon Mrs. Ashmore. That individual now entered the room visibly agitated.

Mrs. Ashmore, where did you obtain that cross ?" demanded the gentleman.

"With her, sir!" was the reply, in a scared tone.

"And—and she is not your daughter?"

"I might as well own up to the truth—she ain't! No child of mine would be naturally so lazy."

"But where did you find her?"

"He"—meaning her husband—"brought her home from the city nigh on to fifteen years ago. A woman then tricked the little thing upon him, and he tuck a-likin' to the waif on the spot, and brought her home. We'd no children of our own, sir."

"And a mother's heart was thereby broken. My daughter—my dear lost daughter!" cried the gentleman, in fervent joy. "Milly, you are my own darling child !"

"I don't doubt it, sir" muttered the farmer's wife. "You look enough alike."

The fullest investigation proved the truth to be as indicated.

Milly found a loving father, and went with him to his beautiful suburban home, giving up all at the farm but her manly lover, Guy Brown. And now she thinks that all romances are not untrue.

The Jerrymander of the 1st Judicial District.

In the spring of 1869 many of the leading lawyers of the Democratic Party in North Carolina, published under their hand a "solemn protest" against the participation in politics, of the judges of the State. They "solemnly" state that, "All experience teaches us that a partisan judge cannot safely be trusted to settle the great principles of a political constitution, whilst he reads and studies the book of its laws under the banners of a party." The principle enunciated is most correct and shows that at that time, our Democratic lawyers had not lost that veneration for elementary virtue, in name at least, which was lacking in the Legislature of the year 1873-'74 upon the subject of the judiciary, To that "solemn protest" appear, amongst others, the names of E. J. Warren, S. J. Sparrow, H. A. Gilliam, Thos. J. Jarvis, Mills L. Eure, Wm. F. Martin and others, residents of our immediate section.

In the Legislature of 1873-'74 a bill was passed which changed the First Judicial District, by cutting off Northamptou, Bertie and Hertford counties therefrom, and substituting Tyrrell and Hyde. There was a reason for taking off Northampton county, for with it, the circuit was the largest in the State having ten counties. With that stricken off, there were left nine counties, whilst no other district had but eight. Taking this county off was but an act of simple justice to the Judge. But why take off Bertie and Hertford? Those two counties have always been in the First District, there was no complaint of inconvenience, the territory is as contiguous as possible and the people well acquainted with each other. It is true that Tyrrell county formerly belonged to the First District, so did Washington county. If the maternal heart of the Legislature was moved to grief at the spectacle of poor Tyrrell being placed amongst strangers, why was that tender feeling so sound asleep when Bertie and Hertford were banished from the family circle? why was the cry of Washington unheeded? and why was Hyde, which never was in the District, at this juncture placed in it? What reason is there that Hyde and not Washington was placed in this District Washington adjoins Tyrrell and Bertie and by means of Albamarle Sound it adjoins every other county of the old District except Gates and Hertford. There are many reasons why Washington should have been placed in the District instead of Hyde and not one in favor of Hyde except a damnable one. If a Judge of this District shall live in Gatesville his route to Hyde is to get to Edenton as he may, then cross the sound to Plymouth, then ride ninety miles by private conveyance through another Judicial District to reach Swann Quarter or he can take shipping and float down the Chowan to Edenton, thence through Albemarle, Croatan and Pamlico sounds to the Court House. There is no business connection with the people of Hyde, no public routes of travel and the judge must at every Court improvise his own conveyance. Suppose a citizen of Hyde wishes an injunction and his case is of extreme urgency, It will consume a week before he can reach his judge, get his order and place the papers in the hands of his Sheriff at home.

In the meantime a wrong doer may have inflicted irreparable damage upon the party seeking redress. It was a serious injustice to the people of Hyde to place that county in the first district. But the Legislature, yielding to importunity from this district, blindly did the work. I say importunity from this district.

It will scarcely be denied that the Bill briginated with some of the Party Leaders of the first Congressional District. None others were interested in the matter or took any active part in it except to vote upon it at the request of their party friends in this section. The change was never demanded by the people and was in oppositon to their wishes. The bill was introduced by Mr. Ballard of Gates a near relative of the most prominent democrat of that County and by a singular coincidence now the democratic canidate for judge in this district. These facts are proofs if any was needed of the origin of the bill. There is no one so dull as not to know that its object was to defeat the present incumbent and elect the democratic candidate on account of his politics alone, a party judge, one who "would read and study the book of the law of the constitution under the banner of a party."

Since 1869 these gentlemen have progressed. Since they adopted Mr Greeley's views in 1872 their perception hasn't been clear and as they gave up lifelong opinions to adopt his no wonder that they have forgotten some of their former professions. A partisan judge is now a good thing.

At the Democratic Convention in Edenton, most of the leading lawyers were present and their influence led that Convention to nominate a judge for party reasons solely. Since 1869 they have forgotten what, in that year, they so tersely and vigorously dictated "That all experience teaches us that a partisan judge cannot safely be trusted to settle the principles of a political constitution whilst he reads and studies under the banner of a party."

This Jerrymander of the judicial district, to use the language of the "Solemn Protest," "So far as we recollect or tradition or history has informed us, was unknown to the people until the late exhibition. To say that it was wholly unexpected, and that a prediction of it by the wisest among us would have been spurned as incredible, would not express half our astonishment, or the painful shock suffered by our feelings when we saw the humiliating fact accomplished."

This burning language seemed to be honest when uttered but it has grown very stale in the practice of the gentlemen who invented it.

Every one must see that in consenting to this gerrymander, our Legislature has made a direct assault upon the purity of the administration of justice. Many already clamor for judges to take the stump zealous partisans are practicing the same art to elect a judge that they employ in advancing the fortunes of political candidates and of course will expect favors from a judge as naturally as from a Congressman. If favors are denied the judge will be accused of ingratitude at least, and a heavy debt of vengeance will be stored up for him against another election This Gerrymander has put the office of judge into market, for sale and those gentlemen who in 1869 were so indignantly virtuous on this point are directly responsible for the evils that must inevitably flow therefrom.

Beside the corrupt intent which taints this act, there are minor incidents connected with it which show how utterly careless of public duty were the men who made and sustained it. For instance, take Currituck county. Court was held there June 8th, Court commences there again July 13th. Judgments taken on the 1st of June must be collected and paid on the 13th day of July, giving the debtor only four or five weeks interval in which to pay an execution. The other counties of the State, except those subjected to a Jerrymander, are allowed nearly or quite six months in which to prepare for the payment of executions. The unhappy first alone is denied this necessary indulgence Necessary, because our crops last year failed to raise any surplus money and no one is prepared to pay until another crop is raised. This bill denies this indulgence to every county in the District, unless perhaps to Dare county, which, from the nature of the occupations of its people, does not need it. The same favor which is given the creditor in the collection of money, is shown to him in securing a lien upon his debtor's estate. His judgment is obtained from four months to two earlier than elsewhere. What peculiar lack of grace characterises the counties East of Chowan River, that the inhabitants should be marked down as objects of Legislative vengeance or discipline? It was easy to provide against this injustice in the Bill, just as easy as to unite any other portion of it. Why was it not done? Was any leader interested in obtaining an early judgment in favor of a rich client, and to effect the object used the Legislature.

Again, unless some purpose of the kind was intended why make a third term at all during the summer months in this malarial district? The state of the dockets did not demand a third term. There is less business on the dockets of the different Courts than ever before, so the lawyers say. The last session of the Court in these counties held only about two days each so I am told and a third term is solely an expense to the counties, for no object unless to benefit some person in getting an early judgement. If the Courts were full of business, it could not be transacted owing to the sickness of jurors, parties and witnesses. It is unjust to the present judge because it imposes double duty upon him without compensation and I venture to say that no valid reason can be given or offered for this feature of the bill.

The fact stands then a monument to public corruption that the Legislature of 1873-74 inaugurated a partisan judiciary by gerrymandering the first district and I think one or two others for the sole purpose of electing judges of a prescribed political creed. C.

Camden County Republican Convention.

According to previous notice a convention of the Republicans of Camden Co. was held at the Court House on the 27, of June 1874, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the Legislature and the various county offices. The convention was called to order by A. P. Cherry Esq., chairman of the Executive Committee. On motion of J. L. Chamblain A. P. Cherry, Esq., was made permanent chairman of the convention and M. N. Sawyer Secretary. On motion John W. Halstead was made the nominee of the convention by acclamation for the Legislature. On motion the chair appointed a committee of three from each township to make nominations for county offices. The committee through their chairman, reported the following names as candidates for the various offices of the county, which was made unanimous by acclamation;

For the Legislature—John Halstead. For Sheriff—B. F. Gilbert. For Register of Deeds—B. M. Abbott. For Public Judge—T, B. Bushall. For Treasurer—J. H. Sawyer. For Coroner—Wm. P. Burfott. For County Surveyor—John K. Abbot. County Commissioners—A. P. Cherry, W. R. Abbott, W. J. Morrisett, T. O. Garrett, S. A. Jones.

CONGRESS.

This is not the first time that Major YEATES, the Democratic candidate for Congress has asked the suffrages of the people for the purpose of securing a place at the table where governmental loaves and fishes are distributed. He solicited the privilege in 1872 of taking his meals at the public kitchen in Raleigh but was informed with decided emphasis that his presence was indispensable at his own private board on the quiet banks of the Meherrin. If we are not much mistaken the same voice will be put in the thunder's mouth in August and reverberated throughout the sixteen counties of the First Congressional District. No man who wears the mantle of the Democratic party need expect to find favor with the honest yeomanry of Eastern Carolina. Not even the fact that Mr. YEATES expressed his willingness to accept the appointment of Judge under a Republican Governor can make them regard him as a sheep of the true political fold when he disports himself before them arrayed in the rough and hateful skin of the wolf. No matter what may be his personal worth, he is the exponent of an organization that is, and has always been, inimical to the best interests of the country. Its past history is black with crime, hypocrisy, ambition, malevolence, selfishness and cupidity. Its weapons have not been the sword and shield, but the mask and stiletto. To quench its insatiable thirst for power the blood of our noblest and bravest was shed like water. Those who have stood in the way of its nefarious designs have been loaded with obloquy, contempt and detraction. The weak have been trampled without remorse by its relentless heel, that it might be elevated by their downfall. It has cringed at the footstool of opulence and power, and "bent the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift might follow fawning." It has added to the term infamy a new and more horrible significance by the organization of the ku klux klan. It has employed red handed murder against the lives of the innocent for the accomplishment of its wicked purposes. It has strained every nerve, and bathed itself in sweat, to degrade the colored man, and withold from him his rights; it has contested step by step, with the ungovernable fury of hatred and prejudice every barleycorn of ground the Republican party has gained for him; but it has the cool audacity to make the hypocritical claim that he has no true friends outside of its ranks. It has called him baboon, ape, thief and dog, but has endeavored to cajole him out of his vote. It has cried aloud with imprecations and malidections, with breathings of well feigned disgust and horror that the Republican party was in favor of enforcing the social equality of the races, but has voted for HORACE GREELEY who advocated mixed schools and mixed churches, and has applauded to the echo the campaign speeches of CHARLES SUMNER the author of the original civil rights bill itself. It has prated of the thievery of its opponents but has sent the "Boss thief of the world" to represent it in the New York Legislature, and hidden the defaulting democratic Treasurer of Virginia in a lunatic asylum to shield him from merited punishment. It has stopped short of no wrong and no sacrifice of principle to enrich itself and maintain its power. In a word, like Polyphemus, king of the Cyclops it has had but one eye, whose ardent and longing gaze has ever been fixed upon the spoils of office, unswerved by the squalor of misery's rags, or th sparkle of honor's gems. As it was, it is Of such a party is Major YEATES the champion and the standard bearer.

Mr. COBB too has been a candidate before, and not once only. Three times has he been nominated, and three times has he led the Republican party of the First District to glorious victory. His record in Congress is one of which he may well feel proud. The stand he has taken among his compeers, the influence he wields at the National Capital, and the substantial benefits he has conferred upon his people have made him a tower of strength to his friends and a terror to his enemies. The party to which he belongs is a party of principles and humanity. It was the first to strike a blow for human freedom. It has labored to relieve the oppressed and ameliorate the condition of the wretched. It is the friend of the poor man. It is the enemy of tyranny in all of its protean forms. It's motto is onward, and its aim to secure the blessings of liberty, education and morality to all men. The electors of the first congressional district are called upon to choose between this party and COBB on the one hand, and the Democratic party and YEATES on the other. To say that they are wise and patriotic and honest is to foretell the result.

THE SENATE.

The Democratic Legislature of 1870-1 in direct violation of the constitution, gerrymandered the Senatorial districts of North Carolina for party purposes. In their apportionment no regard was paid to contiguity of territory or geographical position. By an unjust and unequal distribution of representation they virtually disfranchised a large number of voters. Under this apportionment the Republicans might carry the State at large by thirty thousand majority, and the Democrats would yet have the Senate. They gave to the county of Wake, Republican, with a population of more than thirty-five thousand, only ONE Senator, while to the counties of Guilford and Alamance, Democratic, with a population of less than thirty four thousand they gave TWO Senators. To the counties of Johnson and Rockingham, Dem., containing respectively 16,897 and 15,708 inhabitants, less than half the population of Wake, they gave one Senator each. To our own district containing more than three times the population of either Rockingham or Johnston they gave only TWO Senators. These are but a few examples out of many, of the grim figures, which upon a general summary exhibit the disgraceful fact that by means of corrupt and partisan legislation, one half the people of the State are represented by TWELVE more Senators than the other half. All this in the face of an express provision of the constitution, which every member of the Legislature swore to support and maintain that: "each Senate district shall contain as nearly as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, excluding aliens and Indians not taxed, and shall at all times consist of contiguous territory." We are not aware by what euphonious appellation they characterize their action. Men who speak plainly call it perjury.

We call upon the people of the first Senatorial district to give a stinging rebuke to this dastardly wrong and outrage, by voting solidly against SHAW and JERNIGAN, the candidates of the party which perpetrated it upon us. Not a single Democrat should be allowed a place in the Senate of North Carolina till her escutcheon is cleansed of this foul and ugly stain.

We have candidates whom all may support with pride and confidence. Their record is not marred by variableness and inconsistency, nor do they base their pretentions to public favor on the virtues, the talents or the aristocracy of their ancestors. They are willing to stand on their own merits, and the merits of their party, and they court an investigation of their public history and their private character. ELIHU A. WHITE is well known throughout the district as a man of strong sense and sterling honesty. He has represented the people of this section in the Senate before, and so far as we know, he gave universal satisfaction. He is identified with the agricultural interests and will receive a large vote from those who till the soil. JOHN P. OVERMAN is a young man who has not heretofore figured in public life. He comes from the rank and the file of the people. With natural abilities of a high order, and a finished education, which was acquired by means of his own perseverance amid unusual difficulties, he will represent his constituency faithfully and creditably. Whereever known he is very popular, and will lead the ticket in his native county by not less than fifty votes.

With such men as these, the Republican party may enter into the contest, well assured, that when the smoke of battle clears away on the 6th day of August, they will see their collors streaming on the ramparts of victory.

OUR STATE TICKET.

The office of Superintendent of Public Instruction is one of no inconsiderable importance. The fabric of all free government must be reared upon education as its foundation stone, in order to withstand the storm of passion, and repel the rude assaults of prejudice and error. We commit to the head of our State educational system an interest which if rightly considered is more vital and dear to us than any other. Hence we should exercise our best discrimination and judgment in selecting the person to fill that responsible station. He should be a man of rare qualifications. To ripe scholarship and a vast fund of practical knowledge he should unite energy of character, and enthusiasm in the cause of human culture. He should have broad and enlightened views of public policy, and be untinctured with the idea that education is designed only for the rich and aristocratic. He should be able to withdraw his gaze from the traditions and sentiments of the dead past, and fix it resolutely upon the necessities and duties of the living present and the possibilities of the unborn future. He should endorse not only with his lips but with his heart that constitution and those laws which give to all men the privilege and the opportunity of becoming better and wiser, because they are men and not because they are rich men or white men He should have ability not only to execute but to conceive. It is his province to originate a system of education—a plan upon which our school machinery will work mere smoothly and effectually than under that which we now have. He should be able to assist the Legislature in their deliberations on the subject of free schools with statistics, suggestions, information, ideas. He should be young and able to perform constant and irksome labor, full of zeal, buoyant with mental vigor, and fully abreast with the progressive spirit of the age. Such a man is THOMAS R. PURNELL of Forsythe, our candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and such a man will he prove himself when he has stood at the head of the Republican column in August with the banner of victory uplifted in his hands

THE ROAD TO PROSPERITY.

The No of acres of improved land in the five counties lying on the North side of the sound is now nearly 6000 less than in 1860, and the acerage under tillage is annually falling into a worse condition. Ditches and general drainage is neglected, hedge rows are thriving more vigorously than our crops, and for the want of proper facilities for reaching the best markets with that kind of produce most profitable to raise, our farmers are restricted to two or three staple articles of culture, of which the production is very large and over a very extended area of the country.

In order to meet with the greatest success the farmer should raise such crops as require the least labor, yield the largest return in money for the acres tilled and labor employed, and take the shortest time to mature and market. Such crops he is now unable to raise profitably, for the lack of quick and certain transportation to the large cities where they are consumed. We have a soil better adapted to profitable truck farming than any section of equal extent on the atlantic coast. No climate could be better for such a purpose than that of this district, and the best seaport harbor from Maine to Texas within a few miles.

Although so near, and yet so far.

Now what seems to be plainly necessary, (and so clearly apparent to make available the great advantages with which nature has favored us, that we wonder how any man holding a property, business or laboring interest in the country can for a moment question), is the improved means of the day, of being instantly informed of the state of the market to which we look for our sales, and rapid and certain means of reaching our market on the flood tide of prices.

The railroad and its handmaid the electric telegraph is our great need. These we must have or lag behind the rest of the world in the march of improvement that leads to prosperity Until these are secured to us we may expect each future return of the census to show a decrease in the acres of land under cultivation. Our ditches and drains will continue to fill, and remain choaked up with weeds, thereby rendering large sections nufit for cultivation, and the hedge rows will year by year encroach on the cultivated fields until they will cover the greater portion. Have our farmers and business men no interest, or no desire to avert such a result? And if so should they not array themselves, earnestly and zealously on the side of progress and improvement and do their share toward bringing about a condition of greater prosperity for all classes throught the Albemarle District?

CORRESPONDENCE

Elizabeth City and Norfolk R. R

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Two, weeks ago you were kind enough to insert in your paper some figures that I had compiled from the census reports, together with some reflections thereon. Your indulgence then, leads me to again present you something more of the same kind. In that article we endeavored to show that the value of the lands in these Counties should bear a price per acre acording to their productiveness as great as Norfolk Co. in Va, provided we had equal facilities for shipping our products to market. According to this ratio the average price of the improved lands of Chowan and Perquimans Cos. would be $42,48 and of Pasquotank, Co, $58,17 of Camden $36,48 and of Currituck Co. $39 41 per acre. These prices not mentioning an increased area of tilled land that would be caused by the building of our railroad) would add an aggregate value to the present improved acerage of five million four hunded and fifty seven thousand dollars. The estimate of actual value by the census of 1870 was, $3,656,041.

Now many unreflecting people will say this is impossible, no such value can be reached as a result of the building of a railroad. Well, if it cannot, then all railroad statistics in other parts of this Country and in Europe are at fault, and the history of the effect of railroads upon the value of real estate, and agricultural products, a delusion. There is nothing peculiar to this section, that would prevent it from attaining the same degree of prosperity, that other sections, with a soil of less fertility, and a climate of greater severity and no more healthful, have arrived at.

As an illustration that our basis of calculation is well founded and our conclusions correct let us examine the condition of any one of the counties in the western States. We will take Lafayette county, Wisconsin, in a remote part of that State. We select this county for the reason that it has about the same area of improved land as is found in the 5 counties named above. It has a railroad passing through, but no navigable water course. The county is very large and consequently many of the farmers are 15 and 20 miles from the railroad line. The number of acres of improved land is 206,887, against 203,582 in these counties, the total value of the former is $10,278,217 (about $50 per acre) and of the latter $3, 656,041 (less than $18 per acre). The true valuation of real and personal estate in the former is $14,383,841 and in the five counties mentioned, in this State, $7,231,364. Now here comes an anomalous statement; the total valuation of farm products and improvements in Lafayette county in 1870 was $2,804,349, and of our counties, $2,377,008. While the value of real estate is nearly three times as great in the former instance as in the latter, yet the productions and improvements are very nearly alike per acre in each case cited. People and capital will seek a railroad line. Can any other reason be given for the disparity of growth and values in the two cases given.

PROGRESS.

A Valuable Recipe.

The Journal of Chemistry publishes a receipt for the destruction of insects, which, if it be one half as efficacious as it is claimed to be, will prove invaluable:

Hot alum water is a recent suggestion as an insecticide. It will destroy red and black ants, cockroaches, spiders, chinch bugs, and all the crawling pests which infest our houses. Take two pounds of alum and dissolve it in three or four quarts of boiling water: let it stand on the fire till the alum disappears; then apply it with a brush, while nearly boilling hot, to every joint and crevice in your closets, bedsteads, pantry shelves, and the like. Brush the crevices in the floor of the skirting or mop boards if you suspect that they harbor vermin. If, in white-washing a ceiling, plenty of alum is added to the lime, it will also serve to keep insects at a distance. Cockroaches will flee the paint which has been washed in cool alum water. Sugar barrels and boxes can be freed from ants by drawing a chalk mark just around the edge of the top of them. The mark must be unbroken, or they will creep over it: but a continuous chalk mark half an inch in width will put their depredation at naught. Powdered alum or borax will keep the chinchbugs at a respectful distance, and tralvers should always pla ce a package under their pillows in places where they have reason to suspect the presence of such bed fellows.

Jones, of Nevada, as a Speller

In the days, when "boiled shirt" were a Sunday luxury the owners of those articles had there names stamped on the bands below the plaits, and as the fashion of vests was not tolerated at that time (this was not the "earlier years of the reign of George III,") the name of a man could be easily ascertained by glancing at the waistband, which was fully exposed to view. On one occasion Mr. Jones had attired himself hastily, and in the hurry had put on a shirt stamped with the name of his room-mate—J. Owens. "Hello!" said a friend, "you've borrowed a boiled shirt for your holiday," "Oh, no," said Joues, "this is my shirt." "Well there's another man's name on it," pointing to the convincing proof, "J. Owens." But quick as a flash when Jones saw his mistake, he turned to his advantage:—"Oh, this is the way our welsh folks spell the family name J-o-w-e-n-s, or Jones as you call it! D'ye see?"—[Alta California.]

The Christian Union is now publishing Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stow's new serial. "We and Our Neighbors." The story opens with one of Mrs Stow's inimitable bits of description introducing two or three characters of whom no one else would have thought, and about whom everyone will now wonder why they never met them in stories before. The tale grows more and more interesting as it proceeds. The Union shows as much tact and enterprise as any daily journal in the country. It has a corps of the best coutributors of all shades of recognized Christian opinion, and gets the best thought out of all of them. It shows more plainly than any other religious family paper in the United States the evidences of careful, thorough editorial work. Its columns, always full of interesting matter, contain a greater variety than those of any paper of similar nature. It has been a very readable paper for years, and has steadily improved upon its own excellence. It advocates unity in a spirit of conciliation, rather than of dogmatism and seeks to draw by fairness when it could not drive by pugnacity. In this respect it is a model Christian paper, and its temper and spirit are a beautiful illustration of the ripened character and mellowed experience of its editor. Its pages give ample evidence that Mr. Beecher's heart and hand are thoroughly enlisted in the great work the Christian Union is destined to fulfill.

The choice Chromos that are presented to every subscriber—genuinely beautiful Paris painted oleographs—are really artistic pictures, and quite as pleasing to a refined taste as they are to the popular eye and the hearts of the children.

A GOOD EDUCATION.—To read the English language well, to write a neat, legible hand, and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic, so as to dispose of at once, with accuracy, every question of figures which may come up in practice—I call this a good education. And if you add the ability to write pure, grammatical English, I regard it as an excellent education. These are the tools. You can do much with them, but you are helpless without them. They are the foundation; and unless you begin with these, all your flashy attainments, a little geology, and all other ologies and osophies, are ostentatious rubbish.—Edward Everett.

There is no novelty in fans, but marvellous perfection in the execution of the subjects painted on silk. The last fan sent to Chileshurst, for half-mourning, was of black ebony mounting. The sticks were covered with violets of the finest carving, and the black silk leaves were strewn with purple violets executed in water colors. The box of purple satin was perfumed with violets from Nice, and bore on the outside the initials of the Imperial widow, veiled with delicate ebony tracing, representing a shroud of black lace.

Two liquor saloons in Chicago have been compelled to close, owing to the fact that in the Bethel Home, near by, a restaurant has been opened where a bowl of good coffee and three slices of bread are furnished for five cents, cheaper petter and more satisfying than beer or poor whiskey.

and other powerful stories, each the literary sensation of its period; and this story promises a like genuine and Wholesome sensation. It deals directly on social topics of interest, balancing the romance of youthful companionship' the brightness of happy home life, the spicy complications of neighborhood association, and such follies and profound domestic miseries as have led to the widespread Temperance movement of the day.

Mrs STOWE is now in the prime of that genius which ripened by [illegible] "Uncle Tom's Cabin" alone selling by hundreds of thousands any edition of her original work ever published—echoes from her book two years ago, "My Wife and I," in old every contemporary. Such a pure and compelling story as "We and Our Neighbors" should be found in every home. This attractive Serial is [illegible] exclusively to the

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC

The only Illustrated Daily Newspaper in the World.

With its issue for March 4, 1874, THE DAILY GRAPHIC entered upon the second year of a career phenomenal in the history of journalism. Its story of a twelvemonths has been a steady and unquestioned growth in popular acceptance as the most original, artistically luxurious, and wonderfully comprehensive metropolitan journal ever published in the United States.

As a brilliant novelty, the whole country has confessed its unique attraction; as a practical and marvellously complete Newspaper, it has become a daily necessity to the social and mercantile interests of one of the largest permanent constituencies ever attained by a journalistic enterprise in the same period, while its great specialty, beyond all actuality or hope of competition, as has been the wonder, delight, and new education of individuals and homes in every State of the Union. In the very idea of such utilization of the finest pictorial art, for every day's information and reflection, there is all the charm of a romance; and the realization of that idea, made visible in THE DAILY GRAPHIC, is a practical and ever-varying assimilation of the most fascinating Ornament with the commonest Use which never palls upon even the most pampered taste. From the first issue the successive multitude of its pictures has been a perfect study of mechanical and journalistic development; the inevitable early imperfections of artists and others, not yet thoroughly trained in the new process, disappearing steadily in a steadily increasing accuracy and beauty of artistic effects. Indeed this very illustration, from day to day, of the Times, spirit of progress in Art, as well as in Events has been an added and piquant interest, which is yet to be maintained for the public by unending future "Graphic" improvements. Scarcely more, however, for its beautiful portraits, trenchant cartoons, vivid news-etching, and unequalled reproductions of the world's choicest works of art, than for its unrivalled attractions as

A SUPERB PICTORIAL MIRROR

A MODEL JOURNAL

NEWS, SOCIETY, AND LITERATURE, has THE DAILY GRAPHIC been nationally recognized and popularly welcomed. Its genuine editorial independence, wide sweep of intelligence, ever-varying department of literary and persona interest, sparkling correspondence and pungent criticisms, make it as much a favorite in the sanctum of the great Western or Southern or Northern newspapers as in the counting-room and the family circle.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is an Eight-page Paper, published every afternoon (three editions), in time for the early mails to all parts of the country.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC has a larger average circulation—more copies printed and sold each day—than any other evening paper in New York excepting only the [penny] News.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is a great newspaper, as well as the only illustrated daily paper. It has special correspondents everywhere, and it has a larger staff of writers and newsgatherers than any other evening paper in New York.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is preserved for binding by hundreds of its readers in city and country. The annual subscriber gets a Pictorial History of the Year, a volume of twenty-four hundred pages, constituting a valuable record of events and a graphic panorama of our time and progress.

TERMS.

To Mail Subscriber..... $12 a year.

☞ New subscribers wishing to take THE DAILY GRAPHIC on trial, may send One Dollar and receive the paper four weeks. NORTH CAROLINIAN

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1874.

☞TO NORTHERN VISITORS.☜

Elizabeth City is 50 miles South East of Norfolk, Va. Parties coming here from the north should take passage on the Bay line steamers which leave Baltimore at 4 P. M. every evening, and arrive at Portsmouth the next morning in time to connect with the Elizabeth City Steamers.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.
We and our Neighbors.

Local and Personal.

☞ Dr. JOHN has been confined to his room for the past ten days by a severe attack of illness. He has been utterly unable to attend to correspondence, read any letters or write a single line for this issue of his paper.

By the appearance of the next NORTH CAROLINIAN he hopes to be at his post again.

☞ A term of the Superior Court will be held next week, at Currituck, by Hon. JNO. W. ALBERTSON.

☞ The proceedings of the Republican Convention in Pitt County arrived too late for this issue. They will appear in our next.

☞ It is said that Captain MEEKINS of Roanoke, has opened a Boarding House on the Island, for the reception of visitors during the Summer.

☞ If the man who attempted to rob our hen roost last night will try it again on Friday evening, we will take pleasure in publishing his obituary free of charge in our next issue.

☞ A moon-stricken youth called our attention to the comet the other night and with a feeble attempt at witticism remarked: "There is a star that 'can a tale unfold.'"

☞ The refreshing showers of last week were greatly beneficial to the crops. From present indications the Goddess Ceres proposes to unbend her brows this year, and favor us with one of her most delightful and prosperous smiles.

☞ The latest market quotations are: New York, cotton, 16¼ @ 17¼, gold, 111¼ Money easy, 3 @ 4 per cent. Norfolk, cotton quiet and little doing; low middling 16c; corn in demand but prices unchanged.

☞ Madam Rumor must bear the blame of the report that several of our city fair ones will shortly exchange the glamour of courtship for the sober realities of married life. As long as birds are birds, they will go in traps.

☞ We are informed by those who were of the party, that the Excursion to Nag's Head on the Steamer "Pamlico" was delightful. All were charmed by the courtesy of Captain SOUTHGATE, the cheerful music of the Band, and the enjoyable climax of a splendid dip in the surf.

☞ Of conrse we are crowded with items of local interest, but we must make room for the important announcement that a pair of goggles were found on the street this morning. By looking through them one may plainly see there is much reason in the popular belief that the moon is made of green cheese.

☞ The Democrats of Perquimans county have nominated Mr. THOMAS E. WISSLOW for the Legislature. We advise those persons who are indulging conjectures as to his probable course next Fall to forego the occupation. He will be picking cotton at that season and they will have an opportunity of giving his conduct their personal inspection.

☞ We advise the young lady who kissed her sweetheart thirteen times at the gate on Sunday evening, to use greater precaution in future. Our Devil witnessed the whole performance, and threatens to tell her name if she repeats it. He says she can only buy his silence at the price of making him a partaker of her osculatory caresses.

☞ A number of our citizens are making preparations to spend the Summer at Nag's Head. Some go to worship at at the shrine of Hygea, others at that of Cupid and Terpsichore and still others we fear, will "worship and fall down" at the feet of Bacchus. Health to the first! pleasure to the second! and to the third, the mildest of head-aches in the morning!

☞ WILLIS BAGLLY and J. P. WHEDBEE, the candidates for Solicitor of the First Judicial District, will address the people at the following times and places:

Currituck C. H.,	Moud. July 13,
Swan Quarter;	Thurs. " 23. at 11 A M
Columbia,	Sat. " 25, " 2 P M
Gatesville,	Thurs. " 30, " 3 "
Edenton.	Sat. Aug. 1, " 3 "
Hertford,	Moud. " 3, " 3 "

☞ The Democratic candidates for the State Senate seem not to be believers in the old proverb, "the more the merrier." They don't wish to be interrupted in the rehearsal of their pieces before the people, and are therefore content to be alone. Without giving our candidates timely notice of their intentions they have entered upon their lonely pilgrimage through the district.

☞ The 4th of July passed off pleasantly here, but without any public demonstration. Our streets were thronged with persons from the country, who came to enjoy a holiday—a brief respite from weary toil on the birth-day of American independence. Their contented appearance and the general good humor and jollity that prevailed impelled our heart to respond with a warmer glow than usual to the noble sentiment of Jewett Pobodie:

Great God! we thank thee for this home—
This bounteous birthland of the free;
Where wanderers from afar may come
And breathe the air of liberty!—
Still may her flowers untrampled spring.
Her harvests wave, her cities rise;
And yet till time shall fold his wing,
Remain Earth's loveliest Paradise!

☞ HORACE GREELEY was in favor of MIXED SCHOOLS AND MIXED CHURCHES. MAJ. YEATES VOTED FOR HIM. Let all who are opposed to the doctrine vote for C. L. COBB.

☞ MAJ. YEATES belongs to the party which employed the Ku Klux to MURDER colored men because they voted the Republican ticket. C. L. COBB introduced a bill in Congress by which the infamous order was broken up. Colored men! remember this on the day of election.

☞ MAJOR YEATES cast a ballot in 1872 exactly similar to that cast by CHAS. SUMNER, the author of the Civil Rights Bill.

☞ The Democrats vociferate that they are opposed to the social equality of the races; yet they are the only set of people on the face of the earth, that ever voted for a man that endorsed it. "Consistency thou art a jewel!"

☞ C. L. COBB was in favor of giving the colored man his freedom. J. J. YEATES was opposed to it. COBB was in favor of allowing the colored man to vote, that he might preserve his liberties. Choose ye between them.

☞ COBB has always advocated giving the colored man full and equal rights before the law. YEATES voted for a man who was in favor of forcing the two races to MIX TOGETHER against the wishes of both.

☞ We see by our exchanges that the city of New York is infested with rabid dogs, and that several persons have recently been bitten by them. We have a superfluous number of worthlessours in our town, which our safety requires us to dispose of, without unnecessary delay. If the life of a man is worth more than the life of a dog it ought to be protected from hydrophobia, the most vile and horrible of all the maladies that escaped from the fabled box of PANDORA.

☞ Hon. C. L. COBB will commence his canvass by speaking at Greenville to-day and in Washington, Beaufort county to-morrow. Other appointments will be published in a few days. Mr. COBB has been quite sick in Washington, D. C., and on that account and from severe illness in his family has been unable before this time to commence addressing the people of the District, or to give attention to correspondence with his friends throughout the different counties. It is expected he will speak every day until the election.

☞ On Saturday, two colored persons oblivious of the distinction between meum and tuum, purloined from a store on Water Street, a couple of walking canes. The valiant proprietor having after a short search discovered the rascals, seized each by the collar, and started with them towards the office of a justice. One of them, by a well timed muscular effort wrenched himself away, and secured his liberty by the vigorous use of his heels. The other was tried, and required to enter into a recognizance for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court. Thus often it happens in this world that one of the wicked escapes, and another is caught in the net of the Fowler.

☞ Were it not for laughing, we should pity those Democrats who charge the Republicans with being in favor of mixed schools, &c., and say they are infamous and black-hearted in consequence. We have never yet heard of a single Republican white or colored, except of the Liberal Stripe, who was either in favor of any such thing himself, or who ever voted for any man that was. But the whole Democratic party voted for HORACE GREELEY, who said in a public speech at Poughkepsia, only eight months before receiving their ballots for the highest office in the land: "I hope the time will come when no one will be excluded from any of the religious or educational institutions of our land on account of color. In small districts, say of twenty-five families each to say that black children shall not go to the same school with white children is to say they shall not go to school at all." The Democrats endorsed this sentiment by their votes, and if to do so is to be "infamous and black-hearted," have they not most aptly described themselves?

"——Let it work,
For 'tis the sport to see the Engineer
Hoist with his own petard."

A BRILLIANT RECORD OF CURES.—An American humorist tells us that it would have been money in his pocket if he had been born without a stomach, and has proceeds to figure up the cost of a chronic dyspepsia, to which he is a martyr, and which he says it is impossible to cure. On this point, "Josh Billings, (for he is the party referred to) is mistaken. Unless his stomach differs from all other dyspeptic stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters will cure him in less than three months. This it would be safe to guarantee under any penalty. There are a few, a very few, actual specific for disease in existence, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be set down as one of them. In cases of indigestion it never fails. Persons who had suffered for many years almost every conceivable species of torture from this agonizing complaint, have been permanently cured with the Bitters in six weeks. Hundreds of such instances are on record, authenticated by the testimony of prominent men in every walk of life, eminent physicians among the number. But this celebrated vegetable preparation is something more than a stomachic and tonic. It is also an alterative of wonderful virtue In liver complaint its effect is as direct and immediate as that of calomel or blue pill, and for more salutary; and in all diseased conditions of the bowels, notably in cases of constipation, its regulating properties are in the highest degree serviceable. The new settlements in the west and all low-lying tracts of country infested with miasmatic exhalations, so fruitful at this season of the various types of intermittent fevers, should be always well stocked with this incomparable remedy which will cure any case of fever and ague in a period varying from three days to three or four weeks, according to the violence of the complaint. Nervous disorders which are always aggravated by the adulterated liquors usually prescribed by physicians, are readily relieved by a course of this admirable combination medicine a-which the properties of a stimulant, a tonic and narcotive are happily blended.

The Saturday Evening Post.

The Oldest and Best Story Paper Published.

Founded August 4th, A. D. 1821.

For more than half century the SATURDAY EVENING POST has been the

of the Country, and has ever born a widespread and unblemished reputation for the unsurpassed purity, refinement and excellence of the Serials, Sketches and Miscellaneous reading matter.

It is pre-eminently

that is published in this county, from its never containing anything that would offend the feelings of any one, either in a religious or political sense, or that could not be read at any fireside without objection from the most fastidious.

The circulation of the Saturday Evening Post, though not quite so large perhaps, as its younger contemporaries, is not, like that of some of them, fluctuating, and too often short lived, but based upon the intrinsic merit of the paper itself, and not dependent on any extraneous influences, such as the popularity of individual writers, &c.

Good, however, as the Saturday Evening Post has been in the past, it is our intention to make it still better in the future, and with this object in view we will effect a marked improvement in every department of the paper and will call to our assistance writers of admitted ability and known reputation.

By increasing its former attractions, and adding many judicious and pleasing novelties by studying how to please and cultivate the popular taste, by increasing industry and enterprise, and by enlarged facilities, we hope to make new friends with each and every issue, and continue to maintain the claim of the Saturday Evening Post to its title of The Oldest and the Best of Family Story Papers.

TWO AMERICAN MAGAZINES.—The excellence of AMERICAN MAGAZINES has become so well recognized abroad that one of the leading English Papers, the LONDON WEEKLY REGISTER, in a recent issue, thus speaks of SCRIBNER MONTHLY.

"We are constrained to own that SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY carries off the prize against all shilling monthly serials for brilliancy of illustrations and variety of contents. It is simply a wonderful shilling's worth. Nothing can be more charming than the cuts,—full of force and vigor; the light and shade are managed with a truly artistic power. Out of its one and twenty original articles, we really do not know which to choose as best, for each and all are excellent."

Not only is it true that Scribner's Monthly excels the English Magazines, but it is "The Best of the American Monthlies."

In the extent, variety and artistic excellence of its illustration of American themes, it has never been even approached, much less excelled. It has a large page and gives a greater variety in its contents than any other of the Standard American Monthlies.

In literary character, and in the brilliancy and ability of its Editorial Departments, it enjoys an equal pre-eminence.

Its conductors started with the definite aim of making it the best magazine in the world, of which they have for a moment lost sight. and they point with pride and pleasure to the May and June numbers, recently issued and ask for them a candid examination and a careful comparison of their merits with those of other magazines; and they renew their pledge to the public, to strive for still higher excellence in the future.

A considerable demand has recently arisen in England for Sir. Nicholas, Scribner's New magazine for boys and girls, one publisher desiring to secure an edition of three thousand of first bound volume (when completed) with his imprint.

The success of St. Nicholas in this country has been even more remarkable than that of Scribner's Monthly. It is pronounced to be "an ideally perfect Magazine for children" and, as is the case with all the best literature for children, it has been found to possess surpassing interest for grown-up readers, as well.

The influence of the periodicals of the day can scarcely be estimated, especially upon the rising generation. Parents and teachers cannot afford to be indifferent to this influence, or careless in relation to the character of the literature furnished to the children outside of their school lessons. In St. Nicholas not only are History, Natural Philosophy, Literature, Fine Arts, and Manufactures presented in an attractive way to young readers, but the children are stimulated to seek information for themselves.

The Publishers will send to any address a specimen number of St. Nicholas, postage prepaid, on receipt of ten cents, the bare cost of paper and printing. The magazines are sold by all firstclass Booksellers and Newsdealers, everywhere.

Buying Horses.

There is no branch of dealing in which every class of society is so frequently taken in, as in the purchase of horses. There are no specific rules by which persons can conduct themselves so as to avoid these impostures, but they may, at any rate, decline placing confidence in those with whom they have no previous acquaintance. In transactions which are fair the negotiating party is anxious that every facility be given to a purchaser to see that he is being treated with in good faith; and we should pause the moment we detect undue haste or reservation, as in nineteen cases out of twenty, we may depend upon it, there is something suspicious in the transaction. The only safe way is a trial of several days, and the disinterested opinion of an experienced veterinary surgeon.

A great portion of horse buyers, however, have to blame themselves for being cheated in their purchases, because they will rely on their own judgment, without its having had the benefit of experience. Almost every man, in fact, wishes to be thought a good judge of a horse, which, from the various points to be taken into consideration, not only of form, but as relating to action, for several purposes, is of all others the most difficult to judge of correctly. But such is the case in other matters than horse dealing, and the experience which often comes two late for our own use, is rarely accepted for that of others.

In order to set aside a bargain for horses, or indeed for anything else, any fraud or deception practised at the time of the sale will void the contract; and it is not absolutely necessary that the horse should be unsound, so as to constitute a breach of warranty, in order to annul a bargain where fraud has been practised. But if a man will not use his endeavors to protect his own interest, the law will not take cognizance of the impositions which may be practised upon him owing to his negligence. "The laws relieve the careful, not the negligent," is an ancient maxim in the law, and forms an insurmountable barrier against the claims of an improvident purchaser. —Prairie Farmer.

Watering Horses After Meals.

It is the practice with many horsemen to give their horses no water until after they have eaten their allowance of feed. Concerning this practice a veterinarian writes:

A full drink of water immediately after being fed should never be allowed to horses. When water is drank by them, the bulk of it goes directly to the large intestines, and little of it is retained in the stomach. In passing through the stomach, however, the water carries considerable quantities of the contents to where it lodges in the intestines. If, then, the food of horses stomachs is washed out before it is digested, no nourishment will be derived from the feed. In Edinburg some old horses were fed with split peas and then supplied with water immediately before being killed. It was found that the water had carried the peas from 50 to 60 feet into the intestines, where no digestion took place at all.

Mr. Cassie is quite correct in the views set forth regarding the injurious effects of large quantities of water swallowed immediately after eating. A small quantity of fluid swallowed along with, or immediately after dry food, beneficially softens it and assists in its subdivision and digestion. An inordinate supply of water, or of watery fluid, on the other hand, proves injurious. It dilutes unduly the digestive secretions; it mechanically carries onward the imperfectly digested food, and thus interferes with the proper functions of the canal and incites indigestion and diarrhœa. These effects are especially apt to occur where horses freely fed and too liberally watered are shortly put to tolerably quick work.—There is no more infallible method of producing colic, diarrhœa, and inflammation of the bowels. The horse is not peculiar in this respect; dogs, and even their masters, similarly suffer from copious draughts of water immediately after eating much solid food.—N. Y. Herald

Treatment of a bad Horse.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "A beautiful and high-spirited horse would never allow a shoe to be put on his feet, or any persons to handle his feet. In an attempt to shoe him recently, he resisted every effort, kicked aside everything but an anvil, and nearly killed himself on that, and finaly was brought back to his stable unshoed. This defect was just on the eve of consigning him to the plough, where he might work barefoot, when an officer in our service lately returned from Mexico, took a cord about the size of a common bed-cord, put it in the mouth of the horse like a bit, tied it tightly on the animal's head, passing his left ear under the string, not painfully tight, but tight enough to keep the ear down and the cord in its place. This done he patted the horse gently on the side of the head and commanded him to follow, and instantly the horse obeyed, perfectly subdued, and as gently and obedient as a well trained dog, suffered his feet to be handled with impunity and acted in all respects like an old stager. The gentleman who thus furnished this exceedingly simple means of subduing a very dangerous propensity, intimated that it is practised in Mexico and South America in the management of wild horses."

Hide-Bound Horses.

Where the skin is covering unyielding structures, it is tightly bound down, but over the greater part of the body it is loose, and in parts thrown into folds. In a healthy animal, even a thick skin is supple and yielding. It is loose and elastic in the young ox that is laying on flesh without difficulty; but in the horse, ox, or other animal out of condition, or suffering from disease, the skin becomes tight and unyielding, it cannot be raised, and the animal in such case is called hide-bound. As the cause of this so called hide bound are various, the same treatment cannot always be effectual or afford relief. In some cases diuretics will be necessary; in others alterative medicines will be required or both may be used alternately. The following powders will act on the kidneys and secretory organs: Nitrate of potash, two ounces and a half; sulphate of iron, common rosin, of each ten drachms; juniper berries, six ounces. All in powder, to be well mixed and divided into twelve parts, one of which to be given night and morning in mixed feed. The following alterative powders may be given the following week, viz: Flowere of sulphur, one pound sesquisulphuret of antimony, half pound; powdered nitrate of potash, a quarter of a pound. Mix, and divide into twelve parts; one part to be given morning and evening in mixed feed.—Prairie Farmer

Hard luck seems from the outset to have attended that "first white child born in Kentucky." He keeps dying. He dies as often as St. Paul did, if it was that erratic proselyte who dies daily. He is at it again. He got out of the flesh once more last Thursday.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — PURELY — CALIFORNIA — D. WALKER'S — EUREKA — VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of Vinegar Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Vinegar Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use Vinegar Bitters as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, Walker's Vinegar Bitters have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of Walker's Vinegar Bitters occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Jaundice.—In all cases of jaundice, rest assured that your liver is not doing its work. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use Vinegar Bitters.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Norfolk, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A farm of 700 acres in Pasquotank County 10 miles from town, with fine two story dwelling, large barn, kitchen and other outhouses; as also, two other dwellings, barns and other houses at different points on the farm. This farm is all cleared but 150 acres, is free from swamps and other waste land, and is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, &c. The price is 14,000 in easy payments.

A farm of 500 acres in Pasquotank County, 6 miles from town, and one mile from the River, with good new dwelling built in modern style, barn, stables, four tenant houses scattered over the farm, fine water, &c. This farm is situated on the most public road in the County, has 300 acres cleared and balance in splendid pine, oak, cypress, maple, sweet gum, and other valuable timber. It is peculiarly adapted to raising cotton, $50 per acre, net, having been realized on a part of it this year in cotton. It also grows corn, wheat, oats, and other crops well. Price $12,000 in easy payments.

Two tracts of land lying on Pasquotank River four miles from town, neatly cleared, and in good cultivation, one contains 1,000 acres, and the other 600 acres. Both have good fisheries, and the land is equal to any in this section. Price $20.00 per acre in easy payments. Also several smaller tracts for sale, ranging from 50 to 100 acres each, at low prices, and on easy terms.

Also two farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Three farms—one of 100 acres, one of 80 acres and one of 190 acres, within two miles of town, mostly cleared land. Price $20 per acre for each tract—payments on easy terms. Also many other valuable farms and town lots too numerous to mention.

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES: SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES, THE BODY UNDERGOES, UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other Fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage or Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Bilious Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals or deleterious drugs.

A few doses of RADWAY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

READ "FALSE AND TRUE." Send one letter stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 32 Warren St., New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you.

TYRIAN

That Pale, Yellow, Sickly-Looking Skin is changed to one of freshness and health. Those Diseases of the Skin, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Eruptions are removed. Scrofula, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, White Swelling, Ulcers, and Sores or any kind of Humor rapidly dwindle and disappear under its influence. In fact it will do you more good, and cure you more speedily than any and all other preparations combined. What is it? It is nature's own restorer! A soluble oxyd of iron combined with the medicinal properties of Poke Root divested of all disagreeable qualities. It will cure any Chronic or Long-Standing Disease whose real or direct cause is bad blood. Rheumatism, Pains in Limbs or Bones, Constitutions broken down by Mercurial or other poisons, are all cured by it. For Syphilis, or Syphilitic taint, there is nothing equal to it. A trial will prove it. ASK FOR DR. CROOK'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF POKE ROOT.

DR. CROOK'S WINE OF TAR!

Ten Years of a public test has proved Dr. Crook's Wineof Tar to have more merit than any similar preparation ever offered to the public. It is rich in the medicinal qualities of Tar, and unequaled for diseases of the Throat & Lungs, performing the most remarkable cures. It effectually cures all Coughs and Colds. It has cured so many cases of Asthma and Bronchitis, that it has been pronounced a specific for these complaints. For Pains in the Back, Side or Back, Gravel or Kidney disease, diseases of the Urinary Organs, Jaundice, or any Liver Complaint it has no equal.

It is also a superior Tonic, Restores the Appetite, Strengthens the System, Restores the Weak and Debilitated, Causes the Food to Digest, Removes Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Prevents Malarious Fevers, Gives tone to your System.

THE GREAT BALOON.

You've heard about the great balloon,
In which Professor Wise
Proposed to go to Europe,
By sailing through the skies,
He proposed to show the people
A quicker way for trips
Than ever had been known before,
By sailing o'er in ship.

Well everything seemed lovely
Upon that Autumn day,
When they began to pump in gas
To bear the barge away.
They pumped and pumped with all their power,
And things seemed nigh adjusted—
When there came an awful crash,
And the mighth bubble busted.

It's ever thus in human life,
Go whereso'er we may,
The darkest night will oft succeed
The brightest, sunniest day,
There are exceptions to this rule,
Where all the days are fair,—
For one, go down to Johnsg. Hall,
You'll find things all right there.

We've thought it best in cases like this,
This little fact to mention;
You need not ferr that they'll inflate
Beyond their power of retention.
And when they undertake to go
Their geer's so well adjusted,
They'll move straigh forward to their work,
With no fear of being "busted."
